

The image shows a piece of white fabric with an embroidered dragonfly. The dragonfly's body and legs are visible, with a central vertical line representing its abdomen. Two large, dark green leaves are positioned on either side of the dragonfly's body. The leaves have a slightly curved, pointed shape. The embroidery is done in a simple, clean style. The text is overlaid on the image, providing instructions for the next steps in the embroidery process.

After outline is sewn remove hoop from machine

Sew out the first color this will be the outline for placement Iron on the leaves first

Now iron on the stem replace hoop and do stem embroidery

One the embroidery is done on the stem you can see the bit at the top
It can be strimmed off

Now iron the cut for the fun flower Insert hoop back and finish the design

Voila
